

Rob is a Partner within Washington National Tax of KPMG LLP. He specializes in the taxation of partnerships and S-corporations. He also focuses on tax planning for closely-held businesses and their owners. Rob is a frequent lecturer and writer on the taxation of partnerships, S-corporations, individuals, trusts and estates.

In the tax community, Rob serves as the Vice-Chair of the American Bar Association's S-Corporation Committee and is a past Chair and Member of the AICPA's national S-Corporation Technical Resource Panel. Rob is also an adjunct professor at Georgetown University's Law School.

Rob received his undergraduate degree in finance from the University of Notre Dame. He attained his law degree from Loyola University and his LL.M. in taxation from Georgetown University.