Victoria J. Haneman joined the University of Georgia School of Law in the fall of 2025 as the holder of the Verner F. Chaffin Chair in Fiduciary Law. Haneman comes to UGA from Creighton University, where she was a member of the law school's faculty for seven years. In 2023, she was appointed the associate dean for research and innovation. She also held the Frank J. Kellegher Professorship of Trusts & Estates and served as the interim director of the health law program for the 2023-24 academic year.

Professor Haneman is an incredibly active scholar with a particular interest in the way in which tax rules, particularly those related to wealth transfers, impact human behavior. Her recent scholarship focuses on the death services industry and taxation, and she has a particular interest in industry disruption, emerging markets, and women and the law. Haneman has published extensively in flagship and specialty law reviews, including the Boston College Law Review, the Wisconsin Law Review, the North Carolina Law Review, the Wake Forest Law Review, the Harvard Journal on Legislation and the Columbia Journal of Gender and Law. She has also co-authored four books, including Planning for Large Estates; Questions & Answers: Wills, Trusts, and Estates, 4th ed.; Federal Taxes of Gratuitous Transfers: Law & Planning, 2d ed.; and Making Tax Law.

Professor Haneman an ACTEC Fellow and a regularly engaged expert by media including PBS NewsHour, National Public Radio, The Wall Street Journal, The New York Times, Wired, and Forbes.
